Task

What is persecution?

Write a reflective piece comparing the persecution in the Holocaust and the persecution in Ancient Egypt? Use these questions as a guide:

How is this like the Pesach story? (Exodus story/Passover story)

<https://www.bbc.co.uk/bitesize/clips/zx7tfg8>

What differences are there between what happened to the Jews in ancient times and here in modern history?

Why might it have been harder for Jews during these events to be proud that they were Jewish?

Do you think it may have been harder for Jews to keep believing that there was a God during these times? Why?

Using materials in your home environment and your prior knowledge of materials and their properties, complete the following:

1.) Identify materials that suit these properties: transparent, hard, conductors, flexible and magnetic. Choose three materials to write about stating why they were used for a particular purpose based on their properties.

Example:

2.) Consider the following scenarios: an umbrella made from glass, a house made from steel, car made from plastic. Write a paragraph to explain any positive, misuse or interesting point about how the materials are used. Include also why materials are used in specific ways and the impact they might have negatively or positively (look carefully at the scenarios: Are the materials used correctly or misused. Is there anything interesting about how the materials are used?)

Task 2

Write your hypothesis based on the question, using your knowledge of materials and their properties.

E.g: I think that the best material for making a saucepan handle is a..... because.....

Do your research, then present your findings justifying your hypothesis. Use evidence to support.

Draw an image of your saucepan. Label it to show the materials used.
